DISPUTE RESOLUTION BOARD AND ARBITRATION

Appendix: B: Dispute resolution During the execution of the Contract.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION

1.0 Dispute

Disputes are germane to any contract. A 'dispute' implies an assertion of a right or a claim by one party and repudiation thereof by the other party, either expressed or implied, and may be by words or by conduct. A mere 'difference' is not necessarily a dispute; when the parties fail to resolve it, the difference culminates in dispute.

1.1 Dispute Resolution in a Construction Contract

Since arbitrations are fairly time consuming, it is always advisable to sort out the disputes mutually through the mechanism of adjudication (Dispute Review Expert/ Board), which is a sort of voluntary arbitration. Arbitration can be resorted to if the adjudicate on decision is not forthcoming or is not acceptable to any party. For dispute resolution following procedure will be followed:

2.0 Dispute Resolution Expert/ Board (DRE/DRB):

(a) A formal clause of obtaining dispute resolution through DRE/DRB will be inserted in the conditions of the contract. A separate Dispute Resolution Agreement will also be drawn up, detailing therein provisions like:

(b) Eligibility of Members, date of commencement, manner of entry on the reference by the Members and their resignation; obligation of the Members, the Procuring Entity and the Contractor; terms of payment (monthly retainer ship fee, daily fee for travel & site visits, out-of- pocket expenses); manner of sharing the fees and expenses and of making payments; arrangements of site visits and their frequency; conduct of hearings; termination n/ phasing out the activities of DRE/ DRB; default of the Member, and action to be taken in case of ddispute in relation to DRB Agreement, etc.

(c) DRE/ DRB should be put in place within one month of Letter of Acceptance.

(d) DRB for resolution of disputes during execution of works will be formed. The DRE shall be a specialist retired Engineer (of a rank of SE and above) of the Contract project.

(e) Sole DRE will be appointed by mutual agreement between the parties. Each party shall submit three names and the other party shall consent to one of the three names. Failing an agreement, appointment will be made by Procuring Entity:

(f) The D.R Board will comprise three Members, one each to be appointed by the Procuring Entity and the Contractor and approved by the other. The third Member, who will also act as the presiding Member, will be selected by the first two Members and approved by the parties. If either of the first two Members is not so selected and approved, or the parties fail to reach an agreement on the third
